Back Problems Hinder Lucksted After Signing With Champion Panthers

By Jon Thompson

Things couldn't have looked brighter for Bill Lucksted, of Grayling, after signing a contract with the Michigan Panthers, champions of the United States Football League.

Open House

The Family of Charles and Phyllis Long invites all their friends to help them celebrate their 50th Wedding Anniversary. At Dorans, 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Sunday, January 29th.

On the opening day of training camp in Arizona, Lucksted hauled in the first pass thrown to him and scored a touchdown. Lucksted, a wide receiver, then found the fastest player in camp and discovered he could keep up with him step for step.

But by the end of the first day of practice, after heavy testing on weight machines, an old back problem returned to haunt Lucksted forcing him to leave camp. The Panthers flew him to Detroit and he will be seeing a doctor in Port Huron.

Lucksted's back problem may be connected with a car accident he was in March 17 in Grand Rapids when another car reportedly crossed the centerline and struck Lucksted's car. Lucksted had problems on and off during his senior year at Grand Valley, but played every game. He stayed away from certain weightlifting when his back bothered him at Grand Valley.

Lucksted signed with the Panthers as a free agent after head coach Jim Stanley called and said he wanted

Amended Lawsuit Filed Against K mart Project

By Jon Thompson

John Kraus, part-owner in two Grayling Ben Franklin stores, filed an amended lawsuit Tuesday, Jan. 17, against the K mart Economic Development Corporation project.

William Carey, the attorney representing Kraus, said the amended lawsuit contains an additional complaint that will attempt to show why Kraus has the right to bring legal action against the project.

Carey also said a request for an injunction to halt the project has been withdrawn and the lawsuit now asks all actions by the EDC board and county commissioners concerning the project be declared void. Carey said his client wants to push the project back to ground zero feeling that next time EDC bonds won't be approved for the project if proper procedures are followed.

The additional complaint filed in the amended lawsuit says the project will violate Kraus' right to quiet enjoyment of his private property. The new complaint contends the public project will increase traffic on roads near Kraus' property and K mart shoppers will be using his parking lot and walkways.

The amended lawsuit also strengthens a complaint made in the original lawsuit, Carey said. The complaint says the EDC board must follow rules laid out by the EDC enabling legislation, and it alleges they failed to do this by not creating a project district area and by not informing the county commissioners about the possibility of the project involving the transfer of more than 20 jobs.

Kraus still seeks money for damages he believes the K mart project will inflict on his business.

In a hearing Jan. 9 on the original lawsuit, Kraus failed to even reach first base as Judge William Porter ruled he did not have the right to sue the project.

Porter said the state court of appeals rules in a previous case of an individual against an Economic Development Corporation that financial injury from future competition is not sufficient to give legal standing, or the right to sue, to a citizen. Porter also said the enabling legislation for EDC's is not intended to protect against competition.

A hearing for the amended lawsuit has not been set yet. After the first hearing, Kraus had ten days to file an amended lawsuit, the defense has ten days to respond, and then Kraus and his attorney Carey have three days to review

Here are 3 Clues

$100 Medallion Hunt Begins

By Jon Thompson

The race is on. The 1st Annual Grayling Winter Sports Carnival Medallion Hunt has started and the first person to find the medallion earns $100.

The first clues in the hunt are as follows:

1. Up is up and down is down, somewhere near here I can be found. East is east and west is west, one of these ways should be put to the test.

2. In this clue you will need some heart, otherwise though, you will have to start, with compass in hand you will need to pick. Candle with wax or candle with wick. Now on you go, but to be the best you begin your journey by not going west.

3. Mr. Jones threw stones, that was a mistake. Because in the guard he could not take, the pots and pans in the army you see, is normal when you have K.P.

The medallion is the size of a softball and is hidden on public property. The area is accessible 24 hours a day and there is no need to cross private land.

One clue to its location is given each day on the Grayling radio stations, WGRY and WQON, and the Avalanche will publish the complete list of clues next week.

The first person to find the medallion and take to the radio stations or the Avalanche during normal business hours will receive $100 February 4 at the Grayling Winter Sports Carnival. The prize is donated by Northern National Bank.

Miss Grayling 1984 To Be Named Saturday

As the last week of pageant preparation begins, the ten contestants are experiencing some of the hidden rewards of being involved. They are finding that working hard and learning new things, both individually and as a team, are worth the effort.

Norma Naour, Pageant Director, stresses team spirit. Norma, the pageant moms, and all those involved in working with the girls, try very hard to convey the feeling and attitude that no matter who wins the title of "Miss Grayling" they are all winners. The experience gained, the friendships made, and the knowledge that so many people in the community are working with them, supporting them, and loving them, helps each girl to realize that through only one can hold the title...they are all very important and we are proud of them.

This final week is extremely busy. It began with a sledding party on Sunday and dinner at Wendy's Restaurant. Then every night this week the girls spend from 6:30 until 10:30 or later at the Grayling High School auditorium rehearsing for the pageant. Back-grounds and lighting must be just right...music put together...talent perfected...scripts written. Each girl and her pageant mom are working to "sharpen their act". The dance instructors are there to put the finishing touches on routines, and other members of the pageant committee are busy making sure that all phases of the pageant are complete.

Saturday, January 28th, there will be a judges reception at noon at the Chief Shoppennagon Hotel. The girls will meet the judges on a social level, and then at 1:30 they will meet individually for their personality interview. Following interviews the contestants will relax and enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Larry McNamara at their home on Michigan Avenue. The pageant moms are preparing a special salad buffet for dinner.

Finally, it's show time, and the girls will go to the High School to prepare for the 7:30 curtain time...and the pageant begins. You can get tickets for the grand affair at the Chamber of Commerce, Cornell Real Estate, the Chief Shoppennagon Hotel registration desk, and WQON.

From Our Corner...

The grim reaper is taking his toll of our friends in this new year of 1984...Sunday we were shocked and saddened when we received a phone call stating that Jack Mead had been killed at Houghton Lake in a tragic accident when he was hit by a car Saturday night...we have known Jack since he came to Grayling to work for Harry and Gen Krumrei and recently has been a partner in Krumrei Distributing Company here in Grayling...Jack was the purveyor of our favourite orange pop before we had to give it up on doctor's orders, and we always would kid about it when we would meet at the post office or downtown...Jack was community minded and would help in any way he could for the betterment of Grayling many times taking time away from his own work to help on projects that would help the area where we live...and now it is 30- at the early age of 56 for Jack...we will miss him and we know this is a tragic loss for his family...

Grayling's answer to taking the blah out of winter is starting its countdown this week when on Saturday night the Winter Sports Pageant will be held at the Joseph Stripe Auditorium and ten lovely gals will compete for the title of Miss Grayling for 1984...and her first function will be to reign over the 59th annual Winter Sports Carnival slated for February 4th and 5th...the new queen will be introduced at the kick-off dinner-dance Thursday, February 2nd at the Chief Shoppenagons Motor Hotel for the carnival weekend...and the way the weather has been lately, it should be a w-i-n-t-e-r fun weekend for those who are interested in the great outdoors in the winter time...if you haven't gotten your tickets yet for the kick-off dinner-dance they are available at the Hotel, the Cornell Building or the Chamber of Commerce office...join the fun, forget the blahs...and attend the Pageant and the kick-off for the festival...

It's Super Bowl time and we're going to finish our corner come Monday some time and head for the wagon shed now...we really care less who wins but, we do enjoy watching pro football...it takes your mind off the many things in this tragic world in which we live...

After watching the Super Bowl it was as exciting as watching a chess game...early in the first quarter Los Angeles blocked a punt and scored and from then on it was all over as the Rayders swamped the defending Super Bowl champs Washington Redskins 38-9...we could have stayed down at the office and finished our column and then we wouldn't be struggling with it Monday afternoon...Sunday the papers had good news on the sports page to the fact that the Go Blue had defeated Bobby Knight and his Indiana Hoosiers, 55-50, and Monday afternoon, Judge Emil was in the office and told us he had tickets and had seen the game Saturday at Ann Arbor...we bring all this up because it just dawned on us that we didn't let our readers know that we cried blue after the Michigan-Auburn Sugar Bowl game...the confusion around the holidays gets to the ol' fella sometimes...

We certainly are paying for the open winter we had last year...for about the past two weeks we have had sub-zero weather, and now that the weather man has decided to let the temperature get into the 20's we get snow, as if we don't have enough already...Sunday night we got a reprieve from the zero weather and it was in the mid 20's in the morning Monday and by afternoon it started to snow and we must have gotten another 2 inches of the white stuff by 5 o'clock...

We're going to call a halt to this week's efforts and head for home so we don't get snow bound...we bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight, and to all of our readers have a nice weekend...Saturday night is the big night for the future Miss Grayling 1984...plan to attend the Pageant if at all possible...it is enjoyable...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Christian Education Vs. Government

During the past decade we have witnessed a growing conflict between fundamental, Bible-believing churches and the state over control of local church ministries. Since the Bible commands Christian education, it was only natural that the first schools in America were in churches. Gradually more and more people outside the churches wanted education also. Since the church and the family are both given divine authority to educate, it was believed that public education under the control of the parents would be a better system to educate and eventually evangelize the entire nation. This worked fine for a few generations until Humanists decided that public education must be taken away from the parents and given over to the state. Since the state has no divine authority or right to educate, both the parents and the churches must proceed to restore control in education.

If you believe we have judged the Humanists unfairly, please read their own words concerning Humanism in public education for 53 years: Charles Francis Potter wrote in "Humanism: A New Religion" in 1930: "Education is thus a most powerful ally of Humanism, and every American public school is a school of Humanism. What can the theistic Sunday Schools, meeting for an hour once a week and teaching only a fraction of the children, do to stem the tide of a five-day program of humanistic teaching?" In case you think Humanists have changed their mind or strategy, listen to what John Dunphy wrote in the January/February 1983 issue of the Humanist magazine: "I am convinced that the battle for human-kind's future must be waged and won in the public school classroom by teachers who correctly perceive their role as the proselytizers of a new faith: a religion of humanity that recognizes and respects what theologians call divinity in every human being."

"The teacher must embody the same selfless dedication as the most rabid fundamentalist preachers, for they will be ministers of another sort, utilizing a classroom instead of a pulpit to convey humanist values in whatever subject they teach, regardless of the educational level."

"The classroom must and will become an arena of conflict between the old and the new - the rotting corpse of Christianity, together with all its adjacent evils and misery, and the new faith of humanism."

The battle has been going on for over 50 years, but the Fundamentalists has only started defending his God-given rights in the past few years. As more and more Fundamentalists face litigation and jail, perhaps you can understand the other side of the issue. (adv.)

Elk Poacher Sentenced
Lansing— Thanks to a sharp-eyed and diligent Michigan conservation officer who didn't mind working last Christmas Eve, a Johannesburg man has been ordered to spend 90 days in jail and to pay a stiff fine for poaching an elk.
Judge Patrick Murray of 87th District Court, Gaylord, Wednesday sent Donald J. Pewinski, 33, to jail for three months and ordered him to pay nearly $900 in fines and court costs, including $200 restitution. He was placed on probation for 18 months, during which time he can have no firearms in his possession, and lost all hunting privileges for three years.
Pewinski's four-wheel-drive Chevrolet pickup truck and the firearm with which he killed the elk were confiscated, condemned and turned over to the state.
Conservation officer Bill Edwards of Atlanta recognized Pewinski, who had been under surveillance for suspected poaching activities, driving out of a private hunting area with a large object covered by a tarp on the bed of his truck. The officer immediately entered the hunting area, where he found tracks and the head and steaming entrails of a large elk.
Edwards and his volunteer conservation officer moved directly to arrest Pewinski and recover the elk, which had been cut in half. Officers said evidence points to a second person's involvement in cutting up and handling the large elk, although Pewinski told the judge that he acted alone in the poaching incident.

Designated Trout Streams

In an action taken on December 29th, 1983, Ronald O. Skoog, Director of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources amended the list of designated trout streams in the state. Of immediate concern to residents of Crawford County is the exclusion of that portion of the AuSable River main-stream from the Grayling Hydro Impoundment Dam ("Old Dam") upstream to Pollock Bridge.

This means that area is not covered by the same restrictions as a trout stream.

The Stump Pond remains designated trout stream and all restrictions apply.

The American public is both uninformed and misinformed about the workings of the nation's legal system, says a survey reported by the Hearst Corp. Of the three branches of government, people feel they are least familiar with the judiciary.

Your car had better run very smoothly and quietly in Rutland, Vermont. It is against the law for it to back-fire there.

Say you listen to your stockbroker and buy a stock that he says will climb ten points within a month. If the stock falls five points instead, you do not have any legal recourse against the broker.

Quick Action Urged For Education Proposals

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Director, MPA

Superintendent of Public Instruction Phillip Runkel is urging the state Legislature to take action on several proposals to improve education, including one of the more controversial and expensive items which calls for a longer school year.

The call came as the State Board of Education unanimously adopted 15 major recommendations in a "Blueprint for Action" report, which it asked to be implemented over the next four years.

The total cost is expected to be in the hundreds of millions of dollars but Runkel said the price tag was not the immediate consideration.

"Money is important, but what is more important is the investment in our future. We have the resources if the state sets its priorities and education ought to be one of its key priorities," he said.

Runkel noted the first cost item is a proposal for model programs for gifted and talented students at about $10 million and another $10 million item for computer and vocational education equipment.

The state's top education administrator said his staff is still developing a cost estimate for increasing the school year over four years to 200 days with 190 days devoted to instruction, up from the 180-day requirement.

He noted, however, if teacher salaries were adjusted for the extra 20 days, the additional cost would be over $200 million based on 1981-82 statistics which should mean 78,447 teaching positions at an average salary of $24,304 for a total payroll of about $1.9 billion.

Public hearings are expected to be held by the board on the report, which officials described as one of the most significant education documents in the century, to help local districts understand the recommendations and gather reactions.

State Board President Gumecindo Salas said the board intends to cooperate closely with districts to help them implement the recommendations, which he said should not be considered etched in stone, but subject to modification.

Major recommendations on new high school graduation requirements - only a semester of civics is now required at all districts - will be monitored and if not voluntarily implemented by 1988, the board will seek authority to set those requirements in a statewide standard.

The graduation requirements include four years of communication skills, two years of mathematics, two years of sciences, two years of either foreign language, fine or performing arts or vocational education programs, one year of physical education or health and a half year of computer education.

For those who are college-bound, students should be encouraged to take another year of mathematics, another year of science and pursue the two-year language option.

Other recommendations include: -colleges and universities should require entering students to have two years of foreign language.

-the Legislature and governor should provide funds to retrain teachers and administrators in science, math, communication skills and computer technology and establish teacher training centers.

-local schools should adopt school improvement plans covering the next three to five years to provide regular textbook review and establish a homework policy, develop written student performance standards for report card, promotion and graduation purposes.

For the board itself, the recommendation suggested the pursuit of 60 initiatives during the next four years, including certification standards for middle and high school teachers to be certified in a content area, creation of summer school programs for students with special needs, encouragement of a partnership between schools, business, industry and labor to develop programs to improve student skills and attitudes for careers, among others.

Open Letter To The Residents of Crawford Co.

The News Article that appeared in the Avalanche Jan. 12, 1984, "Attorney General Auditing Public Transit Records", was very enlightening to me. Yes, I was suspended, not on Oct. 25, 1983 but Oct. 21, 1983 at a Special Board Meeting. As a matter of fact, I was asked to resign but since the board would not explain the reason, I refused, which led to my suspension, with pay.

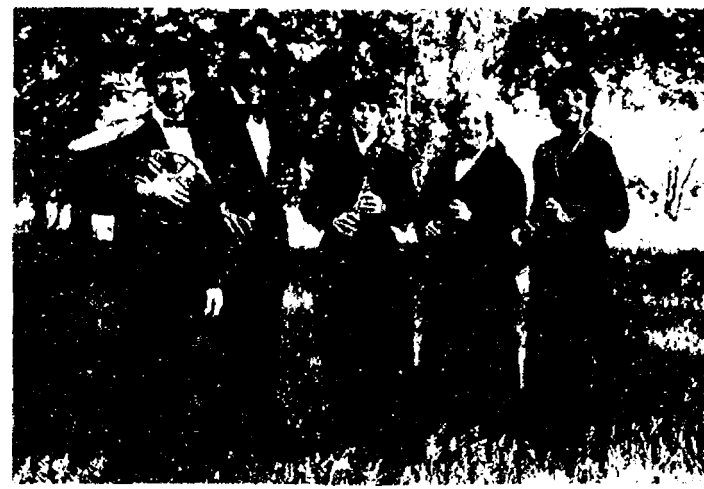

On Oct. 25, 1983 I submitted a letter to the Chairperson, Robert Chappel, requesting an Executive Session to discuss the allegations that led up to my suspension. At a Special Board Meeting held Oct. 25, 1983, after an Executive Session, a motion was made that all records of C.C.T.A. be picked up and placed in the Sheriff Dept. Vault and a State Police investigation be held. My request for an Executive Session was denied, reason given was, it was premature. Yes, I was officially released, not on Jan. 1, 1984 but Dec. 1, 1983. In a Certified Letter I received Dec. 2, 1983, "Please be advised that your employment with Crawford County Transportation Authority as Executive Director has been terminated as per action of the Transportation Authority Board. Your termination is effective Dec. 1, 1983. A final accounting of accrued vacation time and other benefits due you will be made as soon as possible." As of Jan. 18, 1984 no action has been taken on the letter.

Yes, I have Legal Representation as I am sure anyone would have if placed in the same situation and treated as though I needed one for my own protection. My Attorney, requested a reason for my termination and he received the following, "Mr. Johnston's Services were terminated Dec. 1, 1983, because he was not performing his duties in the manner that was satisfactory to the Authority. As you know, Mr. Johnston was employed on an at-will basis, and his employment could be terminated at any time." "The Board reconsidered its position and felt that an Executive Session was pointless."

The news article finally explained my termination anyway. Saving the System Money and putting the needed Service on the Street has been my primary goal, thus giving the Residents of Crawford County the best and safest service possible for their money. I have never been reprimanded or given any direction by my past or present boards other than keep up the good work. At no time have I ever done anything to Benefit myself financially, in fact, the past records will show that in 1977/78 I gave up my personal raise so that my employees could receive a better wage. I have been a Life-long Resident of Crawford County and have Dedicated myself to the betterment of the County any time the situation arose. Yes, I have made mistakes, but show me a person that hasn't, including Elected or Appointed Department Officials, there was one and they crucified him.

I do not intend to debate the issue any further, as from what I can gather from the news article, that will be done in the future. I am just trying to help the public understand my position in the matter with what information I have at the time.

Kirtland College's Performing Artist Series is hosting the Valley Woodwind Quintet on Saturday, February 4th at 8 p.m. The recently formed group consists of faculty members from Saginaw Valley State College, and enjoys playing popular music, as well as classical selections. The program they will be presenting will include Scott Joplin rags, "Your Cheatin' Heart," melodies based on Irish sailor songs, a blues number and works by classical authors.

The quintet consists of Bill Wollner, principal french horn with the Midland Symphony and Assistant Professor of Music; Drew Hinderer, principal bassoonist with the Midland and Northwest Michigan Symphonies and Associate Professor of Philosophy; Linda Hargett, principal clarinetist of the Midland Symphony; Jane Bellen, principal oboist of the Midland Symphony; and Mary Anderson, flutist with the Saginaw Symphony and an instructor at Saginaw Valley and Delta Colleges. The major goal of the quintet is to share the joys of chamber music with the citizens of Michigan.

A concert featuring the Roscommon High School Jazz Band, directed by Larry Sumerix, will be performing at Kirtland only two weeks later, on Sunday, February 19 at 8 p.m. This local band, which often wins awards at state jazz band competitions, will be part of a double bill with the sophisticated Studio Twelve Jazz Band from Central Michigan University. The afternoon's program will provide big band jazz music from the heyday of the big band to more contemporary pieces performed by the CMU group.

Tickets for the Valley Woodwind Quintet and the Jazz Band concerts are on sale at: Roscommon Hardware, St. Helen Pharmacy, Higgins Lake True Value Hardware, Dressmakers in Mio, Rose City Public Library, Flowers by Josie in Grayling, Kirtland College Bookstore, Village Sampler in West Branch, and the Houghton Lake Chamber of Commerce.

Vikes Win 2 at Hanson Hills

Grayling's boys ski team pushed their record to 10-2 for the year with a double win against Charlevoix and Kalkaska, and the girls raced for two wins to improve to 9-2-1.

The rescheduling of a Wednesday meet to Tuesday, Jan. 17, at Hanson Hills to avoid exam conflicts didn't hurt the Vikings skiers at all.

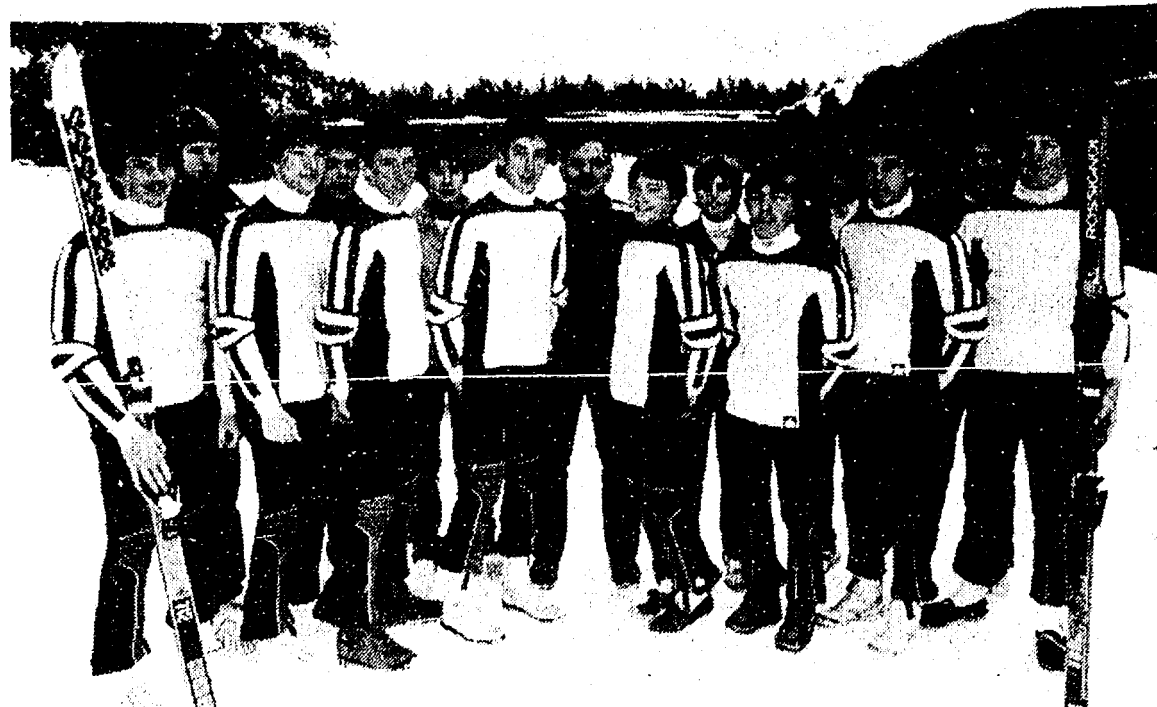

Head coach Mike Wieland said the boys won a tough meet as the pressure of extremely close times got to some of the Charlevoix racers causing falls. The falls turned a close race into a big win for Grayling as they wound up with 32 points, Charlevoix had 50, and Kalkaska had 86.

The top three boys skiers came through well as Alan Weiss placed first in giant slalom and third in slalom. Pete Huss took a second in slalom and a 4th in giant slalom, and Greg Welsler took a third in giant slalom and a 4th in slalom. Mark Gust placed 7th and 9th to figure in the top four skiers for team totals. Bruce Carlson also contributed in team totals placing 8th in giant slalom and 9th in slalom. Ron Thomson finished 12th in both events.

The girls won with 33 points to 39 for Charlevoix and 97 for Kalkaska. Karyn Reynolds led the way with another double win in slalom and giant slalom. Heidi Derenzy had a strong outing taking second in giant slalom and 4th in slalom. Kris Laudenslager placed third in slalom and 7th in giant slalom. Heidi Bendig placed 13th in slalom and 8th in giant slalom despite falling in the slalom run. Carol Longworth was disqualified in slalom after losing a ski but came back to take 11th in giant slalom. Freshman Carrie Longworth responded well to pressure, Weiland said, coming through with a 7th in the second run of the slalom after two girls had fallen. Without the 7th place finish, Grayling would have had to use a 13th place finish in qualified in slalom after losing a ski but came back to take 11th in giant slalom. Freshman Carrie Longworth responded well to pressure, Weiland said, coming through with a 7th in the second run of the slalom after two girls had fallen. Without the 7th place finish, Grayling would have had to use a 13th place finish in their team totals for slalom giving them six additional points — the final margin in their six-point win over Charlevoix. Madelyn Thomas lost a ski in the giant slalom and was disqualified. Grayling skied against Roscommon at Hanson Hills Monday, Jan. 23, and travels to Nubs Nob for a meet Wednesday, Jan. 25.

Local Businesses Present Career Information to GHS Students

About sixty Grayling High School students and eleven local businesses interacted in a career seminar at the high school on Wednesday, January 11th. The seminar was sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Grayling High School Counseling Dept. The committee for the seminar consisted of Penni White, Grayling High School Counselor and Career Education Specialist; Joyce Kolka, Chamber of Commerce Secretary and Manager; Sharon Rubey, American Legion Auxiliary.

The goal of the program is to allow a student the opportunity to gain first hand information about one or a number of career fields while he or she is in high school. The seminar was the second in a series of seminars scheduled to take place over a three year period. By the end of the three years all categories of career fields will have been covered and the series will begin over again.

Wednesday, January 11th, the seminar featured Protective Services and the Hospitality and Recreation career fields. The panel members for the seminar were: Protective Services moderator, Col. Ivan Gwilt (National Guard), Lt. Bob Stacey (Michigan State Police), Tom Davis (Attorney), Douglas Wilson (Youth Services), and Pete Stephan (Grayling City Police). The moderator for Hospitality and Recreation was Sherry Hanson (Chamber of Commerce), and the panel members were Hertha Laupmanis (Holiday Inn), Duane Brooks (conservation), Lary Gust (campground management), and Jim Franke (Wendy's).

Information covered included description of the job; the tasks, skills, salary, location, training and high school subjects related to the job; the job market; the life-styles associated with the job and the personal attributes which would help a person to do well in the job.

Last year's seminar covered the Health, Technology and Construction fields with over 100 students attending. Plans are tentative for a seminar in the spring for the Business, Retail Sales and Services Seminar. The 1984-85 seminar will cover the Engineering, Transportation and the Arts Career fields.

Other career development and preparation activities for Grayling High School students include a cooperative effort with the Explorer Scouts. The high school coordinates its program through Sue Metu, District Director for Explorer Scouts. The organization provided a computerized survey which was given to all high school students in order to determine the career interest areas among students. Results of the survey have been used to provide guidelines to the counseling office for inviting business and professional people into the school to talk with individuals or small personal groups in regard to students interest. A second outcome of the survey has been the establishing of Explorer Groups for Outdoor Interest and Police Administration. The sponsors for the Outdoor Explorers Group is the Grayling Boosters Club and for the Police Administration Explorers Group the sponsor is the Crawford County Sheriff's Dept.

For the near future, the American Legion Auxiliary representative, Sharon Rubey and Sue Metu of the Explorer Scouts are working with Ms. White in an effort to provide a Career Fair experience for eighth and ninth grade Grayling students.

As a follow up to last years seminar juniors and seniors with specific career plans are provided the opportunity to spend a few hours in their chosen field "shadowing" a business or professional person. The school has also provided COOP positions as a follow-up to the seminars through the C.O.O.R. representative, Fred Stanley.

In order to correlate each students career and academic plans throughout their four years of high school the high school counselors, Penni White and Bill Klinger provide a minimum of eight individual and personal conferences with each student. The conferences emphasize four year academic and career planning; necessary courses and grade point averages; college and vocational training requirements; support services and personal evaluation. Along with their academic testing and interpretations students also have the opportunity to take the Ohio Vocational Interest Survey (OVIS) during their ninth grade and the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) during their junior or senior year. The counselors personally interpret these test scores for students and work the results into the students academic and career plans.

The students also have access to the Michigan Occupational Information System through microfiche and a computer terminal system as well as other resources available through the high school library and counseling resource room. Community members who would like more information may call the high school counseling office.

The high school and the community are keenly interested in providing Grayling students with the best possible career development and preparation opportunities available. The communities participation is greatly appreciated.

To The Editor:
In reply to Mr. Kraus' lawsuit.

Mr. John Kraus, what are you thinking about, are you afraid of the competition, if you are, you should not be in business. Do you not know it is the people that can make or break you, not E.D.C. They are the ones that do the buying.

Think it over Mr. John Kraus, would you not rather make more friends than enemies. Thank god for the blessings he has given you, and leave well enough alone, even if you get your way, which I do not think you will this time, the people will still voice their opinions where they will buy. A good many go to Gaylord and Traverse now to buy. Let's keep the buying here.

Why don't you think it over again and do not be greedy. The good Lord put you into this earth with nothing, and you certainly will go out the same way.

After all, there are two or more other business' in this town. Why not another variety store.

Financial Aid Available To College Students

More than $500 million is available to Michigan college students in the form of scholarships, loans, grants and jobs, according to the Michigan Financial Aid Association. To make certain that all funds are fully utilized, they have asked Governor James Blanchard to declare January "Financial Aid Awareness Month" to make that point.

"Many students are confused about the eligibility requirements and are unaware of the availability of aid; as a result, many haven't bothered to apply," said Association President Bruce Himebaugh of Hope College, Holland. "Money is there on the basis of both need and merit."

He said that financial aid money is available from federal, state, private and college and university sources.

A majority of students enrolled in institutions of higher education in Michigan receive financial aid. These students would not be able to attend the college of their choice without financial assistance. Kirtland Community College maintains a financial aid office that works closely with area high school counselors to provide students with information & application forms necessary for the aid most suited to their needs.

Grayling Elementary

Mrs. Claire Hammer came in to Mrs. Bovee's fifth grade class. She is a dietitian. She told us about the four basic food groups. Then she showed us a film about two rats in a test with one getting the four food groups and the other one getting the same meal only without vegetables and getting sodas with his meals while the other one was getting milk. They also showed how strong the one rat was compared to the other rat. She also gave us a book on what snacks are good and what snacks are bad. By Joell Schans, 5th grade.

How do I get the best return on my savings?

Until recently, certificates of deposit (CD's) were not for everybody. That's because federal regulations required minimum deposits which were so high that most people could not take advantage of the higher rates of interest. Much less, have their money tied up for six months or more. But things have changed.

Goodbye, Regulations.

The minimum deposit regulations have been removed, allowing us to reduce our minimums and put them well within reach of anyone serious about saving. Today, a $500 investment will bring you rates of return that used to require minimum deposits of $2500 to $10,000.

Different Maturities for Different Goals.

You can choose from a wide variety of maturities - 3 months, 6 months, 1 year, 2 years, 3 years or 5 years. And the longer you save, the higher your interest rate. But keep in mind that the minimum deposit is still only $500. So you may want to select more than one plan to match your particular savings goals.

The Rate You'll Earn.

Your rate will be set on the day you buy your certificate. And it's guaranteed not to change until maturity, even though our rates will change weekly to keep pace with the money market. That way, when you're ready to invest, you can be sure you're earning a current, competitive rate.

Come to Us for Answers.

We know how important your savings are to you. Because we've been helping people make the most of their financial resources for 90 years. So, if you come to Gaylord State Bank, you can expect to get sound advice on CD's, or any other financial product or service you'd like to know more about. Even if you're banking somewhere else.

Volleyballers Bounce Boyne

Grayling hardly worked up a sweat Wednesday, Jan. 18, swatting Boyne City 15-2, 15-2, and 15-0 in less than a half hour.

Grayling improved to 3-2 overall in matches and 1-1 in the league.

Head coach Becky Brown said her team was 100 percent on bumping opportunities, not missing one attempt. Shelly Trenary led in serving hitting 12 good serves with three aces. Kathy Worden connected for five good serves and three aces.

Trenary and Dawn Phelps controlled the nets with Lisa LaMotte setting them up for spikes.

The J.V. squad won by forfeit at Boyne to push their record to 4-0. The J.V. squad also went to their own tournament Saturday despite having a cold time early in the morning in below zero temperatures with a bus that wouldn't heat.

The girls thawed at Rogers City tangling with the home team for a tough opening match. Grayling came back from 13-4 only to lose 17-15. Brown said several questionable calls at the end of the game made her club mad and they came back to win easily 15-6 in the second game against Rogers City.

Grayling fell 15-4 and 15-11 to Oscoda, but then beat Petoskey 15-4 and 15-11. Beth Bedard led the team with 27 good serves, Shelly Denton had 20, Kathy Partin 17, and Piper Ostrowski 12. Lori Pfaff led the offense well playing in the front row. Denton and Ostrowski combined for several good saves while Pfaff, Denton, and Ostrowski led in blocking.

Grayling played Gaylord St. Mary's, ranked ninth in class D, Monday night here and play Mancelona away next Monday.

What's So Special?

By Sharon Prislipsky & Lorraine H. Marchi

Jennifer is eleven years old. She is a pretty little girl, but she has no friends. She is bright, but she is one year behind her age group at school. She receives a great deal of love from both parents, but she is withdrawn and insecure. What is Jennifer's problem?

Jennifer is one of a number of children with poor vision which was not detected by her parents, teachers, or family doctor until she was ready to start school. By then, the emotional damage had been done.

Children like Jennifer don't get the opportunity to play games with other children in the school yard. They can't see well enough to catch the ball. They fall behind in school because they can't see the blackboard. They are considered "different" because they wear thick glasses. They may also need to use other low vision aids such as a high intensity light or a bar magnifier in the classroom.

Jennifer can overcome one of the most ignored and least understood disabilities a child can have - impaired vision. Children like Jennifer can get special help from a teacher trained to understand and work with the visually impaired. The National Association for Visually Handicapped cares about them and works for them by supplying them with free large print copies of their own school books. A newsletter In Focus helps visually impaired youngsters get in touch with each other through their poems and stories. There are also free recreational activities available to help these children share experiences and demonstrate how much more they can achieve than they ever believed possible.

Visually impaired children and adults can lead normal lives thanks to modern technology. But many people do not know that help exists or how to go about finding it. If you know a child or young person under age 26 whose vision may be 20/70 or less in the better eye when wearing his or her glasses, we can help. Call the C.O.O.R. Intermediate School District, ask for the special education supervisor for your school district. We want to help. We care about kids.

Grayling Elementary School News

Mrs. Larson's first grade class was studying about weather in their science books. They found out what kind of clothing you should wear in the different types of weather. They also learned the different types of weather.

The Story About Teaching

On January 13, 1984, Miss Kathy Allen came in the fifth grade class to teach poetry. It was Mrs. Bovee's class in Grayling. Kathy is in tenth grade and learning about poetry. She is taking Advanced Studies. She had permission to come. She came for five days. It was in the morning at 9 a.m. The days she came were January 3, 5, 9, 12, and 13. She has to do a report on it so she can get a mark. She had to get permission from her principal and then she had to get permission from Mr. Nunn and Mrs. Bovee. We made covers for our folders that Miss Kathy Allen made up. It was lots of fun to learn about poetry. She played a record and a game. The record was about the story of "On Golden Pond." We had to write a poem about that and more. By Tanya Johnson, 5th grade.

FINANCIAL AID WORKSHOP—The Grayling High School Counseling Department held a Financial Aid Workshop on Wednesday, January 11th in the High School Library. About forty parents were in attendance to discuss the financial aid process.

Cliff DeNay, an admission counselor and financial aid director, from North Central Michigan College in Petoskey gave a presentation on description of the student aid available to students at the federal level.

Bill Klinger and Penni White gave presentations dealing with aid at the state and local levels followed by a question and answer period.

Bill Klinger would like to remind parents to pick up financial aid forms from the Counseling Office and that January 31st is the deadline for Michigan Competitive Scholarship semi-finalists.

The deciduous trees stand with limbs exposed to numbing winter cold, and one wonders how the buds, which formed when the leaves fell off, survive. I am told that buds contain a very effective antifreeze which protects them from extreme cold. Have you looked closely at the limb of a tree or shrub? The buds are there waiting for spring's warm weather. A bud is actually a miniature plant stem which may develop into either leaves or flowers or both. When spring does come, not all the buds will open because some are held in reserve just in case something happens to the others.

Not all buds look alike as you can imagine. For example, the bud of a tulip tree consists of two scales and looks very much like a duck's bill. Balsam poplar buds are not only large, but sticky, fragrant and coated with resin. Most oaks have their buds clustered at the end of the twigs. The potato is actually an enlarged underground stem and the eyes are the buds. A tulip bulb is a resting bud surrounded by leaves full of stored food, while the stem is the flat disk at the bottom.

Buds not only produce flowers and leaves but food as well. We humans eat buds in the form of asparagus, brussels sprouts and broccoli. Aspen (popple) buds are the number one winter food of the grouse who favors the bigger male flower buds. Buds supply much food for squirrels when acorn crops are skimpy, and a hundred pound deer eats six to eight pounds of buds and stems a day during the winter.

GHS Wrestlers Improve

Grayling wrestlers earned four titles in Saturday tournaments and they picked up two league wins as injured wrestlers returned to the line-up.

Grayling forfeiting as many as 36 points in earlier matches, had more wrestlers against Rogers City and Boyne and earned a 36-33 win over Rogers and a 60-6 victory over Boyne.

Tom Sorenson, one of the injured wrestlers returning to give new life to the squad, won two titles at tournaments. At Clare, Jan. 14, Sorenson took the heavy-weight crown as Grayling finished fourth. Ron Wyman, at 145 pounds, and Barsie Cross, at 185 pounds, also won titles. Tim Moore, at 119, and Robin Mortforton, at 105, took seconds, and Lacey Stephan, at 112, took third.

At Ithaca, Jan. 21, Sorenson won again improving his record to 11-1. Wyman took a second to improve his record to 28-5. Moore had a fifth for a 20-8 record and Mortforton also had a fifth for a 8-2 record.

In the dual match against Rogers City and Boyne at home, Cross, Wyman, Sorenson, Mortforton, Moore, and Lance Davis scored double wins. Stephan, Claude Halstead, Chris Warren, and Mike Keene beat their Boyne opponent.

In Ithaca, Halstead, Keene, Warren, and Davis scored team points to help Grayling take 7th out of 16 teams.

Grayling takes on Gaylord and Roscommon Thursday and travels to Breckenridge Saturday.

Vikes Trip Houghton Lake, Fall to Rogers City by 3

Five Grayling players hit in double figures against Houghton Lake as the balanced scoring nipped southern rival Houghton Lake 66-60.

Jon Nicholas led the offense with 15 points and Jim Stewart and Paul Hamlin came off the bench to hit for 25 points — Hamlin 13 and Stewart 12. Rod Patterson scored 12 and Wayne Ross netted 10. Jeff Branch added 2.

Ross knocked five shots out of the air on defense and now has 43 blocked shots for the year. Ross grabbed 12 rebound and Patterson hauled down 8.

Head coach Butch Hayes said Hamlin played his best game of the year in the victory and Nicholas had a good offensive night.

The game was close throughout. Houghton Lake went ahead 17-14 at the end of the first quarter and Grayling tied it 28-28 by half. Houghton Lake was ahead by one entering the last eight minutes but Grayling built a six point lead and maintained it.

Against Rogers City, Dave Zigala made the most of his first start and scored Grayling's first eight points. Grayling shot well from the floor (41 percent for the game) and went ahead 10-8 after one quarter and 30-23 after two quarters.

Rogers City burned Grayling 20-12 in the third quarter to go ahead, and they managed to hang on to their narrow lead the entire fourth quarter. Grayling scored to make it 59-58 with 20 seconds to go, but didn't foul Rogers City until three seconds to go. Rogers made both free throws for the 61-58 league win.

Grayling fell to 4-4 in the league and 6-5 overall. Ross led Grayling in scoring with 14 and grabbed 11 rebounds. Nicholas scored 10, Zigala 8, Hamlin 8, Stewart 7, Patterson 6, and Hickey 5.

Grayling hit 12/17 from the line while Rogers hit 21/29. Grayling played Roscommon Tuesday night and travels to Petoskey Friday.

Annual Hanson Park Poker Run Sunday

The 3rd Annual Hanson Park Cross Country Ski Poker Run will take place this Sunday, January 29, 1983. Winners of the event will receive cash prizes at the completion of the race. Registration for the Poker Run will begin at 12:00 noon and continue until 4:00 p.m. Those participating may complete the race at their own leisure. Along the race course, each participant will collect sealed envelopes containing playing cards. At the end of the day, the person with the best poker hand wins.

This year, there will be two race courses to choose from, a short one mile loop for non-skiers and younger children and a longer, 4 mile course for the more experienced skiers. Should a person wish to do so, they may run both courses. Entry fee for the short course is $4.00 and $8.00 for the longer one. There is no rush to complete either course, as the winners cannot be determined until all participants have checked in at the end of the day.

In past years, the Poker Run has been one of the highlights of the Hanson Park ski season, drawing a large number of participants. Naturally, the greater the number of participants, the larger the prizes will be. For more information, call Hanson Park at 348-9266.

He holds several GVSC records including most career touchdowns, most career receptions, and most career yardage. Lucksted started every varsity game beginning in his sophomore year and caught a pass in every game.

William Lucksted, Bill's father, said his son will probably return to GVSC to finish his senior year and wait for a doctor's decision about his back and a return to football.

Their teacher, Mrs. Ingvarsson, is working with the boys and girls on a unit called "Endangered Species." This group, which has had three meetings, will be working through the unit and doing research on the chosen animal (the group could choose from a list of fifteen animals). ## Chamber Chatter

By Joyce Kolka

The good news is that the Artrain is coming to Grayling April 7-12 and citizens in Crawford and surrounding counties will have the opportunity to see some magnificent works of art. The bad news is that it takes volunteers to have a successful visit for the train and to receive the guests who will come from other areas.

For each successful community venture, a group of dedicated people working behind the scene make it a hit. The Artrain Steering Committee is asking that volunteers meet Wednesday night January 25 at 7:30 p.m. to help make that program a success. The meeting will be held in the Community Room of Northern National Bank.

Another community project coming up next week is the Winter Sports Carnival. Actually the first activity for the carnival begins this Saturday, January 28 with the Miss Grayling Winter Sports Carnival Pageant. The big event will be held at the Grayling High School Joseph Stripe Auditorium. Tickets are available from Chief Shoppenagons, Cornell Realty, WQON, the pageant moms, the chamber and Betty Mansfield.

The Kickoff Dinner for the carnival will be taking place on Thursday, February 2 at the Chief Shoppenagons. Tickets for that affair will be available at Cornell Realty, Chief Shoppenagons and the chamber office.

It would appear that the column this week is dedicated to obtaining volunteers for the various functions coming up this winter and spring. The Michigan Outdoor Writers Association members will be looking for guides to take them ice fishing, cross country skiing and snowshoe rabbit hunting. These folks will write many good things about winter outdoor recreation in the county if we can obtain the volunteers to take them to the appropriate spots. Please call the chamber if you would be willing to serve as a guide for one of these activities on Saturday, February 4.

Also in the volunteer vein, a chairperson for the Trout Fishing Contest and Mushroom Mania Day this spring are being sought. Persons interested in serving on the committee for these events are also welcome. Once again call the chamber office if you are interested.

Coming up on February 14 will be a Hospitality Seminar for businesses in the area that are engaged in the tourist trade. The meeting will be open to employers and employees. There will be a registration fee of $10.00.

A special tape has been cut and duplicated by WGRY Radio for use by the chamber for radio or television advertising. Music and the vocal was done by Rich Blackmore and B.J. Wood of the Mile Marker four member band. The group is managed by John Ray of the Chalet Motor Inn. Bob Harrington of WGRY informs us that the tape can be used by chamber members wanting to develop a promotional campaign around an area event. The chamber has a cassette of the tape if any of our members would like to hear it.

We certainly want to thank WGRY and the musicians for being so community minded in donating the time and expertise for the tape.

With a tearful eye we bid farewell to Dr. Paul A. Dosch who was not only a medical man to this community but a friend to many of our families. He served his community on many civic groups and in elected positions. His passing has left a large vacancy in this area that will be difficult to fill.

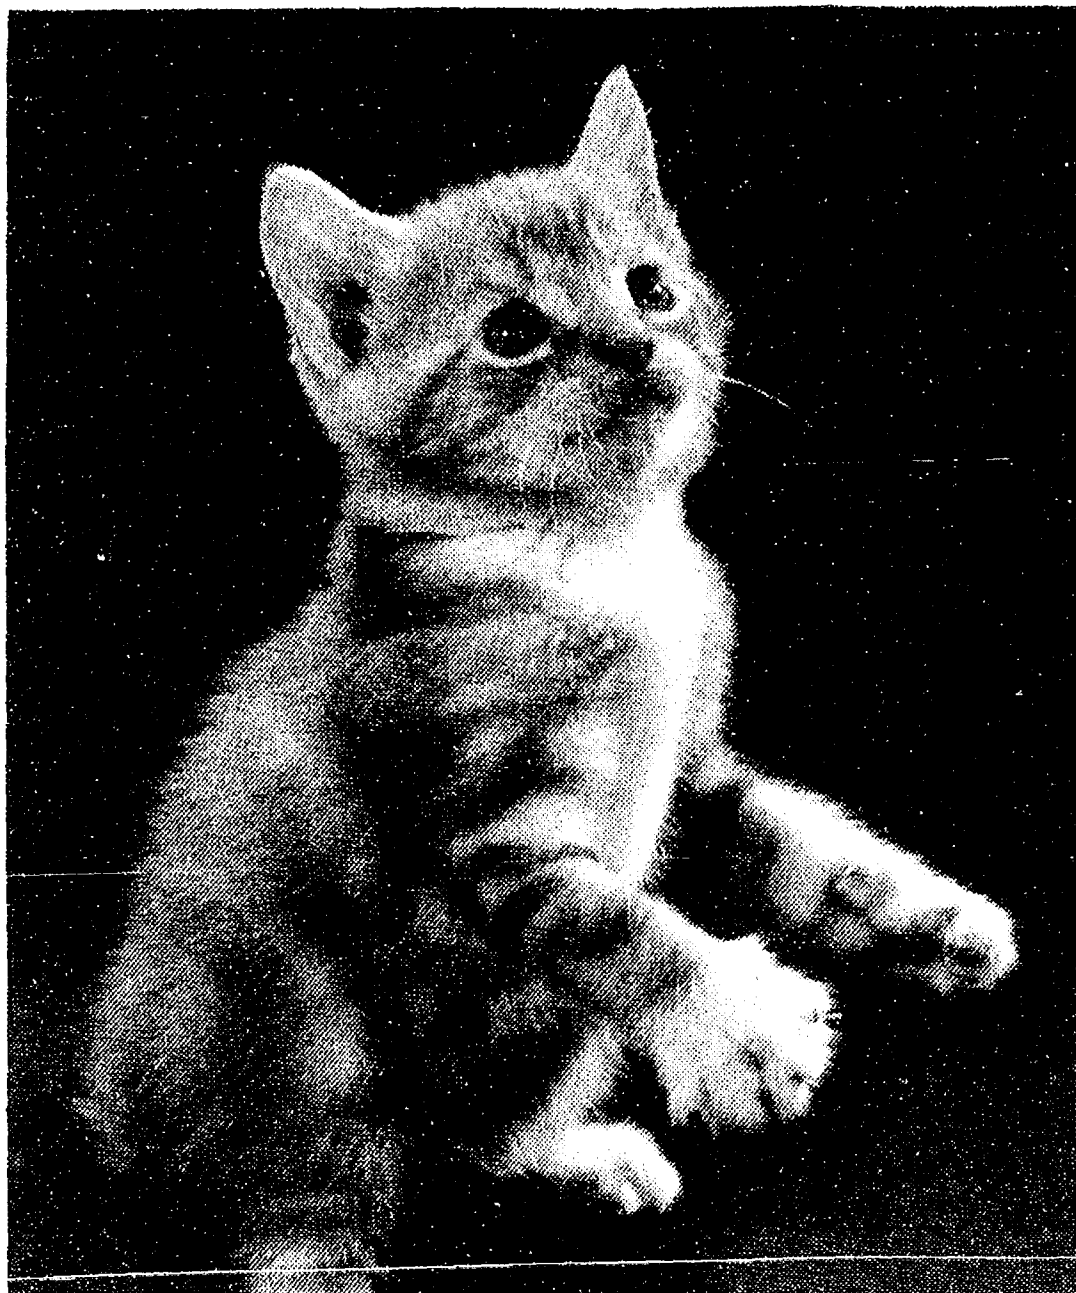

At this time we welcome the following into membership: Mr. and Mrs. John Tomalia of Tomalia's Woodland Motel which is located across from the Airport, Bill Hamilton of AuSable Manistee Realty and Ken Hey as an associate member. We are pleased to have them supporting our endeavors and we hope they will become active members in the chamber.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

A PLAYFUL KITTEN

The little ball of fluff that is a kitten amuses us as he chases a piece of string when it is pulled across the floor. Perhaps he stalks it warily or wiggles in anticipation as he waits for it to come near. Or maybe he tumbles over himself as he makes a mad dash when it moves erratically out of his reach. We can't help but laugh.

Sometimes it can be easy to get caught up in chasing a bit of string. It may be fun. It may be good exercise but that isn't enough. We sense there are larger values we need in our lives. The church can help us focus on what is really important as we strive for maturity. Life is more than a ball of fluff, no matter how charming.

American Legion Auxiliary News

By Laurie Jensen,
P.R. Director

Sunday, January 29 at 6:00 p.m. will be our initiation of new members into the Auxiliary. This will be different for us in the Auxiliary because I cannot remember having an Initiation on a Sunday before. Immediately following our Initiation will be a coffee and dessert hour. Come out ladies and show your support of our unit and our new members.

Look for Poppy Seals to be coming out soon. All donations collected will be going to the Department Scholarship Fund.

In last weeks Avalanche, we ran an article about our scholarship program. To receive more information about these please contact Bill Klinger at the High School or our Education Chairman, Sharon Rubey at 348-7795.

Seeing how bad the weather has been lately, I wish to urge each and every one of you to please use extreme caution when going out. Stay bundled up and watch your step. We don't need to be making any trips to the hospital to visit you. This certainly is a change in weather from last year, isn't it!

Rosalyn Johnson is accepting donations of yarn, knit or crochet slippers and lap robes. These items are for the V.A. Hospital in Saginaw. Please contact Rosalyn at 348-7756 and let Rosalyn know that you can help. I urge everyone to help with this worthy cause.

Ladies don't forget our February 15th meeting. Come out and hear what your Auxiliary is doing. We have some exciting things coming up in the next few months.

We always are in need of more support. In order to make a club grow it needs its members support. The same people get tired of working all the time. Let's get some different blood in our unit! Only you can make this happen.

Don't forget that we have a big hall to rent out. Our Auxiliary does cater. Until next time, Have A Nice Day!
